U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Public Meeting for the Former Naval Air Station Grosse Ile

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) Louisville District is scheduled to host a virtual public meeting from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. (EST) on November 30, 2021 for the former Naval Air Station Grosse Ile (NASGI) Formerly Used Defense Site (FUDS) in Grosse Ile, Michigan.

USACE officials are slated to provide a formal presentation on the Proposed Plans for Areas of Concern (AOC) 12, 20, 24A, and 24B at NASGI.

The in-person public meeting, originally scheduled at 6:00 p.m., September 16, 2021, has been canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Department of Defense Force Health Protection Guidance for limiting in-person meetings to no more than 50 people and the U.S. government's travel restrictions. The virtual public meeting will replace the canceled in-person meeting by using technology (phone and internet) to communicate the same information and to collect comments from the public while ensuring the public safety.

The event will include two meeting sessions. The first will be a presentation of the Proposed Plans covering investigation findings for AOCs 12, 20, 24A, and 24B at NASGI. Representatives from USACE will be available to address questions regarding the environmental investigation and proposed future actions for those areas. An additional meeting session immediately following the first will serve as the annual informational public meeting concerning the NASGI FUDS site as a whole. USACE representatives will provide an update on the status of ongoing environmental work at the site and will be available to address questions.

Members of the public may attend either one or both of the meeting sessions. Times for these sessions are listed below.
