and

The Louisville District Corps of Engineers Qualification Based Designer Selection

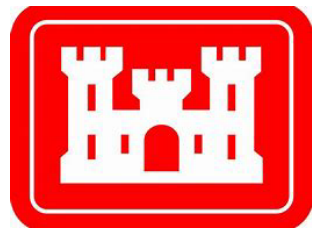

Why we need YOU

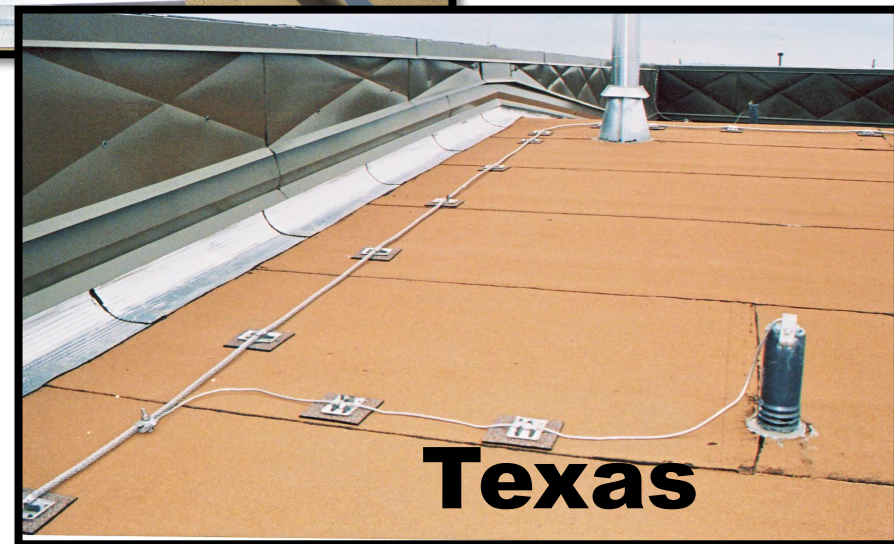

- The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Great Lakes and Ohio River Division (LRD), Louisville District (LRL), plans to award new AE IDIQ contracts in 2023 for roofing centric designers.
- The proposed services, which will be obtained by negotiated Firm Fixed Price Contracts, are for a variety of Architect/Engineer services primarily for Roofing and Building Envelope repair and replacement for the Army Reserve projects nationwide (including U.S. Territories)
- These contracts will provide for designers for building envelope and roof replacement requirements under North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code 541330.
- Selection criteria are expected to include experience design 20 year NDL roofs for single ply, mod bit, and steep slope systems. Selection criteria are also expected to include requirements for firms with multiple RRCs and registered Architects or Engineers on staff.
